HOUSE ADOPTS TAX RESOLUTION

Gives Voters Opportunity to Adopt or Reject Tax Reform Amendment

THOMPSON AT CAPITAL

Rumor Spreads That Chicago Mayor Was in Springfield to Frame Up Slate for Election

EXPECT STIFF FIGHT TUESDAY

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 20.—At the November election in 1916 Illinois voters will have an opportunity to adopt or reject a proposed constitutional amendment which would enable the legislature to change the taxing machinery of the state.

This was decided today when the house, by a vote of 130 to 8 adopted the Compton joint resolution which provides for the submission to a referendum vote of a constitutional amendment which would remove some of the present limitations in the revenue clause of the constitution. The resolution already had been adopted by the senate.

The existing limitation which it is proposed to eliminate by the amendment provides for the uniform taxation of all classes of property.

Dunne Signs F. and M. Bill.

Governor Dunne late today signed and made a law of the $1,000,000 foot and mouth appropriation bill which provides for the state's half share in the reimbursement of stock raisers who suffered financial loss because of the slaughter by state and federal authorities of cattle infected with the foot and mouth disease.

Mayor William Hale Thompson of Chicago slipped quietly and unheralded into Springfield early this morning, spent the day in conferences with politicians and members of the legislature and left late tonight for Chicago. Only a favored few seemed to know that Chicago's chief executive would be here today.

As Mayor Thompson met politician after politician, the report spread that he was here to frame up a Republican slate to be put up at the next state election. The mayor announced that he was in Springfield in the interest of Chicago bills pending before the legislature, especially the home rule bill.

Stiff Fight Promised.

One of the stiffest fights of the session is promised next Tuesday night when the house municipalities committee will take under consideration the Young bill repealing the 1907 act by which the state granted the use of the lake front at Chicago for park purposes.

By repealing the act, Representative Young, who introduced the bill hopes to force to a quick settlement in the courts the case of the state against the Illinois Central railroad for possession of the lake front land now used by the railroad.

Speaker Shanahan spoke in favor of the Rothschild bill enabling cities and villages having control of lands to release them for park purposes. The measure would turn over to the Chicago South Park Board two plots of lake front land.

The court practice bills, drafted by Judge Hiram T. Gilbert of Chicago and endorsed by the Chicago and State Bar associations were practically killed by the house which refused to suspend the rules and consider the measures.

Thirty Bills Are Passed.

Thirty bills were passed by the legislature today. Some of them are:

Requiring nomination of school trustees by petition.

Giving right of jury trial in cases of excessive land taxes.

Appropriating $125,000 for for rebuilding buildings at the Joliet penitentiary and to cover a deficit in the operating expenses of that institution.

Appropriating $85,000 for state aid for county fairs and county agricultural societies.

Revising the law regulating the time of holding circuit court outside of Cook county.

Senator Herlihy's bill giving veterans of the Spanish-American and other recent wars the same privileges in civil service examinations as are accorded to Civil War veterans and advanced to third reading after an amendment offered by Representative Theon had been adopted. The amendment provided that such veterans should have been residents of Illinois at the time they enlisted.

MINER SUICIDES.

DuQuoin, Ill., May 20.—Michael Reney, treasurer of the local miners' Union, committed suicide by jumping head foremost down the shaft of the Buckner mine near here today. His accounts are being examined.

ROCKEFELLER TESTIFIES BEFORE COMMISSION

SUBJECTED TO SEARCHING EXAMINATION BY CHAIRMAN WALSH

Capitalist is Questioned About the Personal Attitude of Himself and His Father Toward Striking Miners—Will Continue Testimony Today.

Washington, May 20.—John D. Rockefeller Jr., testifying today before the industrial relations commission for a second time in it's inquiry into the recent strike against the Colorado Fuel & Iron company was subjected to a searching examination by Chairman Walsh, who questioned him about the personal attitude of himself and his father toward the striking miners. He will continue his testimony tomorrow.

Brings up Lawson Case.

After Mr. Rockefeller had read a statement relating to correspondence since his apeparance before the commisison in New York, Chairman Walsh brought up the case of John R. Lawson, a member of the executive board of the United Mine Workers of America recently convicted of murder and sentenced to life imprisonment.

He declared that W. W. Wilson, one of the jurors, had been indentified as a traveling salesman for a biscuit company, who had exclusive sales privileges in the mining company's plants. Mr. Rockefeller's attention was called to allegations that employes of the Colorado company who testified against Lawson were detectives hired by the company and the chairman asked what the witness would do for the sake of justice if the allegations proved to be true.

Cool Under Questioning.

Mr. Rockefeller, cool under rapid fire questioning by the chairman, said he was determined that administration of justice should be left to the state and that if injustice could be shown the attorney general of Colorado would wish to try the Lawson case again.

"Suppose," asked Chairman Walsh, "it should be brought indubitably to you that W. W. Wilson, a traveling salesman for a biscuit company one of the jurors in the Lawson case had been given exclusive privilege of selling his products to all of your camps, would you suggest to the authorities that you did not think that fair with a man's whole life at stake?"

"I am not familiar with the conditions," Mr. Rockefeller replied. "Should it develop that what you say is true, I would do whatever is necessary to see that what is right was done."

"Do you think it right or fair to try a man before a juror who was situated with your company as I have described this man?" the chairman continued.

Rests in Hands of State.

"I think that the jurors should all have been selected with the greatest care," Mr. Rockefeller answered, "and if any jurors selected were not properly fitted for the place they should have been excused. If it can be shown now that they were not proper men the attorney general would want to try the case again, I am sure. The administration of justice should rest solely in the hands of the state. This principle I regard as so vital that I would not stop at anything which might be necessary in order to maintain it absolutely."

Chairman Walsh told Mr. Rockefeller that the information regarding Juror Wilson had come to him from Rev. Eugene Gaddis, formerly in charge of the sociological department of the Colorado Fuel & Iron company, who testified yesterday. Gaddis, he said, met Wilson on a train some time ago in Colorado and the latter told him he was a salesman for a biscuit company and had "exclusive sales rights" to the Colorado company's plants.

"We sent a telegram," said Mr. Walsh, "to Colorado with regard to the matter and today received this reply: 'W. W. Wilson is a traveling salesman of the National Biscuit company. Your information is correct.'

"If this turns out to be true," the chairman continued, questioning the witness, "have you such zeal for the full administration of justice that you will make some demand upon your company and the authorities of Colorado in regard to getting Mr. Lawson a new trial before a jury, none of whom are beholden to your company?"

Reserves Right to Decide.

"I am reserving the right to decide that when I am informed as to the situation," said Mr. Rockefeller. "Again I say I stand on this very definite statement that the administration of justice should rest in the hands of the state."

"But I am giving you a specific instance," Mr. Walsh insisted. "Lawson has a wife and children. Suppose he was sent to the penitentiary under the judgment delivered by this jury would you tell them to read your statement about the administration of justice to him in the penitentiary or to his wife and children? What will you do yourself if an injustice has been done?"

"If an injustice has been done I will do what I can to maintain justice and see that justice is done," Mr. Rockefeller calmly replied.

Refers to Welborn's Statement.

In his statement to the commission Mr. Rockefeller emphatically denied that officials of the Colorado Fuel & Iron company had anything whatever to do with the prosecution of Lawson and called attention to a statement issued by Mr. Welborn, president of the company, denying allegations to that effect and stating that some of the company's employes might be called as witnesses.

"Were these employes," asked Mr. Wash, "men who came through the Baldwin-Feltz Detective Agency who pretended to be strikers and did they afterward, for pay that your company gave them, testify to that portion of evidence that convicted Lawson of the crime of murder?"

"I would have to refer you to Mr. Welborn," said Mr. Rockefeller.

"Suppose it were true?" continued the chairman, "with your repugnance to the taking part by the corporation in these prosecutions, would you go to Denver and take some action against officials of your company?"

"I presume that is a matter which the attorney general decided when he called his witnesses," Rockefeller answered.

"But suppose absolute knowledge were brought to you, would you take any part to savea man from life imprisonment?"

GERMANY'S REPLY TO AMERICAN NOTE IS NEARLY COMPLETED

Return of Kaiser From the Eastern Front is Awaited Before Document is Put in Final Form.

Washington, May 20.—Germany's reply to the American note sent a week ago to day as a consequence of the Lusitania tragedy and other violations of American rights in the war zone has been nearly completed. according to intimations which have reached here through diplomatic channels.

The return of Emperor William from the eastern front is said to be awaited by the imperial chancellor and the minister of foreign affairs, before the document is put into final form for presentation to Ambassador Gerard. It may reach here next Tuesday or Wednesday.

The issuance today by the British foreign office of an explanation of detentions of American cargoes was received with much interest in official circles but without comment. While the memorandum explains some of the points taken up in a note under preparation to be sent to Great Britain it was said by some officials that the United States had not yet obtained a satisfactory explanation of its original inquiry with respect to England's right to halt any cargoes of non-contraband including cotton, consigned to neutral ports which cannot be blockaded under international law. Neither the state department nor the Austrian or German embassies has any positive information as yet as to the tone or character of the German reply to the American note.

JURY IN LIBEL CASE IS LOCKED U? AFTER DELIBERATING SEVEN HOURS

Request Involving Politics is Made by One of the Jurors on Single Occasion That Jury is Brought Back in Court Room.

Syracuse, N. Y., May 20.—The jury chosen to determine whether Theodore Roosevelt libelled William Barnes and if so, what sum is commensurate with the damages sustained by the latter, was locked up at 11:27 o'clock tonight after it had deliberated for more than seven hours and failed to reach a verdict. A request involving politics was made by one of the jurors on the single occasion when he and his companions were brought back into the court room.

Juror number three—Walter J. Zuill, a Syracuse manufacturer and Progressive, asked Justice William S. Andrews, who has presided at the trial of Mr. Barnes' suit, to reiterate that part of his charge in which he said that the jurymen would not be performing their sworn duty if they considered politics or allowed their individual political beliefs to play any part in the reaching of a verdict.

War News Summarized

While latest advices from the Italian capital make no reference to an official declaration of war by Italy against Austria, they do announce that the Italian parliament has conferred full powers on the government to make all decisions in case of war for the defense of the state.

This is taken to mean that Italy is about to strike, if she has not already done so. Paris is celebrating the announcement of the Italian parliament's action as if war had been declared and it is quite possible that the news from Rome had been greatly delayed in reaching the United States.

Except for a continuation of heavy fighting in Galicia where the Austro-Germans are declared to be pushing still father their successes of several weeks past, military operations are almost at a standstill.

In the west, in Belgium and in France, bad weather and soggy ground have prevented almost all troop operations and virtually made artillery duels the sole method of offense and defense. No changes of any moment are recorded by the war chancelleries of any of the combatants along this line.

The fighting throughout Galicia is increasing in intensity according to Petrograd and the Austro-German forces which have crossed the river San are spreading over the vicinity of Jaroslau, Radawa and Sieniawa.

To the south of Przemysl the Teutons have taken Russian advance trenches, but at the cost of enormous sacrifices according to an admission of Petrograd.

In the north the Russians are still pressing the Germans in the Shavli region, pushing them back on a wide front.

COLLAPSE OF TRIPLE ALLIANCE FORESHADOWS FURTHER CONFUSION

Intense Interest Prevails Among Washington Officials on Receipt of News That Austro-Italian War is Now Inevitable.

Washington, May 20—Intense interest—almost equalling that Washington experienced last August when declarations of war in Europe followed each other in rapid succession—prevailed today among government officials and the large body of foreign diplomatists on receipt of advices that war between Austria and Italy was now inevitable. Some official despatches from Rome predicted an actual declaration of war before the end of this week.

The collapse of the triple alliance now officially confirmed in the Italian Green Book, and the prospective spread of the war to new battlefields and seas, it was everywhere recognized foreshadows further confusion and entanglement of the international relations of the European powers, the political effect of which on the map of the world and the alliances and ententes of the future is less calculable than ever before.

Only in the possible effect in Berlin on the tenor of the German answer to the recent American note was there a direct interest for the United States in the Austria-Italian developments. Some officials believed the value of the public opinion of the most powerful neutral remaining would be an important influence toward a most friendly reply, while others thought the cutting off of supplies through the Mediterranean would cause the German admiralty to permit little restriction in the activities of submarines.

In executive quarters the most scrupulous silence was maintained toward the situation as between Austria and Italy, the friendship of the United States toward both countries being long established.

MRS. PANKHURST HOPES ENGLAND WILL DECLARE MARTIAL LAW

LONDON, May 20.—(11:37 p. m.)—"I hope one of the first acts of th ecoalition government wil be to declare martial law and mobilize both men and women for the service of the country," said Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, leader of the militant suffragists, addressing a meeting at Hull tonight.

Mrs. Pankhurst expressed the hope that women would soon be permitted to enlist like men for war service at home. In face of the peril which confronted the country, she declared, it was no time to think of causes espoused in the past. She personally was "willing to obey orders in the service of the country in any capacity."

HUSBAND PROBABLY FATALLY WOUNDS BRIDE OF SIX WEEKS

DANVILLE, Ill., May 20.—Mrs. Hazel Booher, aged 20, bride of six weeks, was probably fatally wounded and her seven year old brother received a scalp would this evening when her husband from whom she had become estranged, opened fire upon her with a revolver at the home of her father, Lon Hansbrough, in Westville. Four bullets lodged in Mrs. Booher's head and neck. Booher was arrested and placed in jail here awaiting the outcome of his wife's injuries.

NEW BRITISH MINISTRY IS IN PROGRESS OF FORMATION

Leaders of Political Parties Confer Throughout Thursday Arranging Details.

London, May 20.—(9:20 p. m.)—The national government which is to guide the British empire for the duration of the war is now in progress of formataion. The leaders of the political parties were in conference throughout the day arranging details.

No statement has yet been made as to the personnel of the new ministry, except that Premier Asquith and foreign Secretary Grey will remain in the posts which they now hold. Thus far, all statements to the allottment of officers have been based largely on surmise. It appears certain however, that will be a new civil head of the admiralty and war office, respectively and possibly changes in the professional heads as well or at any rate a readjustment of the responsibility.

Earl Kitchener, the secretary for war it is generally agreed has too much to do in the direction of the war, raising new armies and the organization of the output of munitions and some of these duties will be shifted to other shoulders. Chancellor Lloyd-George and Andrew Bonar Law, leaders of the opposition are about equally favored for civil head of the war office and A. J. Balfour is mentioned for a similar proposition in the admiralty. In the latter case, there is some doubt as to whether Mr. Balfour would consent to accept this proposition. However there is to be a complete change in the whole government, including not only the cabinet but the under secretaryships will be distributed among the liberals, unionists and laborites, according to their strength in the house of commons.

The nationalists, it is understood have definitely decided to stand aside. T. P. O'Connor in an article in his weekly newspaper says that John E. Redmond, the nationalist leader, respectfully refused the offer of a seat in the cabinet.

CHARGES FIRE INSURANCE RATES IN ILLINOIS ARE EXORBIAANT

CHICAGO, May 20.—Fred LeRoy editor of the Streator Independent, chairman of the committee appointed by the Illinois Press association to investigate conditions under which fire insurance companies operate, reported for the committee today.

He charged that the fire insurance companies in the state are unrestrained by any state body and that rates in Chicago and Illinois are exorbitant.

A resolution was adopted promising support to Rufus M. Potts, superintendent of the state insurance department, in legislation he is seeking, to give the state supervision of the companies.

Another resolution which was adopted expressed high praise for President Wilson and his note to Germany on the situation caused by the sinking of the Lusitania.

ITALIAN CABINET IN STATE OF EXPECTATION

TRIBUNES OVERFLOWING AT SITTING OF CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES

Deputies Especially Applauded are Those Wearing Military Uniforms—Entire Chamber Applauds When D'Annunzio Reaches Public Tribune.

Rome, May 20.—(1:25 p. m.)—via Paris, May 21.—(1:15 a. m.)—This day will be a historic one for the new Italy. The whole capital is in a state of expectation. Only in the period of the wars of independence can a parallel be found.

The names of those who contributed to the unification of the country—Victor Emmanuel II, Cavour, Garibaldi, Mazzini and a hundred other patriots—have been on the lips of the people and the wish has been expressed by all to emulate them.

Place Guards Around Piazza.

Although all of Rome appeared in accord, the authorities placed guards around the Piazza di Monte Citorio, in which stands the parliament building, and threw a cordon of troops around the Austrian embassy in order to prevent any untoward incident.

Flags were waiving everywhere, including the British, French, Russian, Serbian and Montenegrin, which frequently were cheered by the crowds.

When the sitting of the chamber of deputies began there were present 482 deputies out of 500, the absentees being ill. The deputies especially applauded were those who wore military uniforms and who had asked permission for leave from their military duties.

All the tribunes were overflowing. In that for the diplomatic body were seated the American ambassador, Thomas Nelson Page and his staff. The former mayor of New York, George B. McClellan, occupied a seat in the president's tribune.

A few minutes before the session began the poet, Gabriele D'Annunzio, one of the strongest advocates of war, appeared in the rear of the crowded public tribune. The people lifted him shoulder high and passed him over their heads to the first row. The entire chamber and the tribunes arose and applauded for five minutes crying "Viva D'Annunzio!"

No representative of Germany, Austria or Turkey were to be seen in the diplomatic tribune. The first ambassador to arrive was Mr. Page. M. Barrere, Sir J. Bennell Rood and Michel De Giers, the French, British and Russian ambassador, respectively, appeared a few minutes later and all were greeted with applause, which was shared by the Belgian, Greek and Roumanian ministers.

For the members of the cabinet there was an ovation with cries for Salandra and Sonnino. Premier Salandra's address was interrupted time and time again by applause from all sides and the climax was reached when he spoke of the army and navy. Those on the floor of the house and in the galleries turned to the military tribune, from which the officers waved their hands and handkerchiefs. At the end of the premier's speech there were deafening "vivas" for the Italy, the king and war.

Only thirty-four intransigent socialist refused to join in the cheers, even in the cry "Viva Italia" and they were hooted and hissed. In the senate, where Premier Salandra repeated his statement his words aroused the same enthusiasm as in the chamber. While it was known that a considerable number of senators were on the side of neutrality, all enthusiastically stood by the government.

Prince DiCamporeale, the brother of Prince VonBuelow's wife, did not rise at first outburst of applause. Instantly there were cries: "Brother-in-law of VonBuelow rise, rise!" which the senator prince did and like the others, he remained standing.

Salandra Addresses Deputies.

In addressing the deputies Premier Salandra said in part:

"The ultimatum which the Austro-Hungarian empire addressed last July to Serbia annulled at one blow the effects of a long sustained effort by violating the pact which bound us to that state; violated the pact, in form, for it omitted to conclude a preliminary agreement with us or even give us notification and violated it also in substance, for it sought to disturb, to our detriment, the delicate system of territorial possessions and spheres of influence which had been set up in the Balkan peninsula.

"But, more than any particular point, it was the whole spirit of the treaty which was wronged, and even suppressed, for by unloosing in the world a most terrible war, in direct contravention of our interests and sentiments the balance which the triple alliance should have helped assure, was destroyed and the problem of Italy's national integrity was virtually and irresistibly revived.

"Nevertheless, for long months the government has patiently striven to find a compromise, withthe object of restoring to the agreement the reasonable being which it had lost. These neogtiations were however, limited not only by time but by out national dignity. Beyond these limits the interest both of our honor and of our country would have been compromised."

CONFERS POWERS ON GOVERNMENT

Action of Italian Chamber Is Considered Vote in Favor of War

ALL PREPARATIONS MADE

Teutonic Allies May Be Compelled to Withdraw Some Troops from Russian Frontier

WEATHER HALTS OPERATIONS

BULLETIN.

ROME, May 20.—(3:30 p. m.)—via Paris, May 21—(4 a. m.)—All members of the cabinet maintain absolute silence regarding what step will follow the action of the chamber of deputies today in conferring upon the government full powers to make war. Former ministers and other men prominent in public affairs declare, however, that the action of parliament virtually was a declaration of war.

BULLETIN.

ROME, via Paris, May 21—(1:25 a. m.)—The Austrian ambassadors to both the Quirienal and the Vatican will be the first to depart from Italy, says the Messagerio, as Italy will declare war on Austria. Then according to the newspaper, Germany and Turkey will declare war on Italy, after which Prince Von Buelow, the German ambassador, and the Prussian and Bavarian ministers to the Vatican, will leave. Naby Bey, the Turkish ambassador, is making preparations for his departure.

LONDON, May 20—(11:10 p. m.)—Any remaining hope that Italy would maintain her neutrality was abandoned this evening when the Italian chamber conferred upon the government extraordinary powers in the event of the outbreak of war.

Declaration Momentarily Expected.

This is considered a vote in favor of war, for which the government has made all preparations and the prospects of which have aroused the greatest enthusiasm throughout Italy. The German and Austrian ambassadors were still in Rome tonight but according to dispatches from Berlin their one care now is to arrange for the safety of their nationals remaining in Italy. A formal declaration of war, or perhaps action without a formal declaration, is momentarily expected. At any rate, all preparations for naval and military action have been made on both sides and it is quite possible that while the Italian premier, Signor Salandra, was explaining to the chamber and the world the policy of his government, the troops on the frontier and the navies in the Adriatic had anticipated diplomatic action.

Italy naturally will have to look first to her frontier, but it is expected that her entrance into the war will compel Austria and perhaps Germany also to withdraw some troops from the Russian frontier where they are hammering at the Russian lines, particularly to the northwest and south of Przemysl, in middle Galicia. This hammering according to Austrian and German reports, is having its effect, for they claim that the Russians are being driven back from the river San in the region of Jaroslau and that the circle around Przemysl is tightening.

At other parts of the frontier the Russians appear to be withstanding the attacks and in the Opatow region in southern Poland, they have themselves taken the offensive. This however, will be useless to them unless they can prevent the Austrians and Germans from making a further advance in Galicia.

Weather Halts Operations.

In the west the bad weather has brought the operations almost to a standstill and this has enabled the French and British to consolidate the ground they gained last week and early this week. While these gains were not excessive, military experts, on the whole, are satisfied with them, having proved to their own minds that when men and ammunition respectively are concentrated in sufficient numbers and quantity the Germans can be driven back.

The public are still dependent upon unofficial reports for the progress of the armies on the Gallipoli peninsula. These reports are mots encouraging from the standpoint of the allies as they state that the forts at Kilid Bahr have been destroyed, that Maidos has been occupied and that the bombardment of Nagara on the eastern side of the straits is in progress night and day.

Another Court Term.

The proposed law to give Morgan county an additional term of the circuit court, to be held in February each year should meet with favorable action. Since Morgan county is to be without a resident judge for at least a number of years the added term will prove a convenience to attorneys and to those having court business.

Judge Burton who is now holding court here is said to have prepared the law with the thought in view of better serving the convenience of the county. Judge Burton by the way is pushing the business of the May term along with vigor and is cleaning up the docket in a very satisfactory way.

U. S. Trade With Russia Improving

That the present situation promises well for a closer relation between manufacturers in the United States and the Russian Empire, is indicated by George C. Taylor, president of the American Express Co., in announcing the extension of the company's activities to that country by the appointment of Edward F. Wales-Smith, for many years traffic agent for the express company at Paris, France, as commercial agent at Petrograd.

"Our present step in this important field", said Mr. Taylor, "is taken after full conference with the Honorable C. J. Medzikhovsky, Commercial Attache' of the Imperial Russian Embassy in the United States. Our plans not only have his cordial approval, but are distinctly in harmony with his earnest desire to stimulate the interchange of traffc betwen the United States and Russia by improving the conditions under which such transactions are handled.

The School Law.

At the instance of Representative Merritt it is announced that a hearing before committee will be held the coming week on the proposed law to abolish the special school charter of Jacksonville. It is proper that such a hearing be held and that those who oppose the change and those who favor the general school law be heard.

It is understood that the proposed law was drafted in the office of the state department of education and that it was brought to the attention of the house and senate by a Jacksonville citizen who has for several years been an advocate of the general law.

Meanwhile it makes little difference who drafted the law or who first called it to the attention of the legislature. The question is will or will not the general law be better than the special charter for the schools of Jacksonville. A majority of Jacksonville people who have made any study of educational affairs believe that it will be an advance step if the schools of this city are operated on the same general plan followed in most of the cities of Illinois. The state maintains its educational department for the very purpose of aiding the schools of the various cities and counties and the direction of the department is shaped in accordance with the best educational thought. Supt. Blair has for years advised the general law for Jacksonville.

One of the best points about the general law is that it abolishes ward lines and the members of the board of education under it are elected at large from the whole city. The members and the president of the board under the general law are elected at large and the board has no connection with the city council. Neither the members nor the president receive any compensation for their services. Another good feature of the general law is that under its operation there would come a greater publicity in school affairs as annual reports of expenditures are required.

Senator Sherman on Patriotism.

Addressing the Illinois Press Association in Chicago last night Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman gave voice to sentiments which evidence the intense loyalty of the man and of his keen appreciation of the destiny of his country. Senator Sherman has from time to time harply criticized the Wilson administration, but in the present state of our national affairs no public or private citizen can surpass him in supporting "our" president. He said in the course of his address:

"The decision of the American people will light the centuries with our righteousness or our shame. It will endure in the code of civilized man. This Republic by its peaceful moral power may be be the lawgiver of nations, pointing the way to bloodless victories won on the sublime heights where justice sits enthroned as the supreme arbiter in the human heart.

"How mean the decrees of brutal force: How paltry the judgments of the sword: Weighed in the Omnipotent's hand, how ignoble all the spurious glory of material deeds! How transitory is it all! Pause where the doomed and pillard capitols of empire lie prostrate in effacing dust go where the moldering trophies tell of the vanity of all human things, walk on earth's red battlefields when the drumbeats pulse the tide of war no more and naught survives it all but humanity and justice. The great teachers of the human race whose lips were touched by the divine fire which in every age has moved the hearts of men, have ruled by gentleness, by justice tempered by mercy, by peace that sways mankind in the unbroken bonds of a common brotherhood.

"Touched by this eternal truth today domestic faction and political difference melt in thin air. Remember, my brethren, your President is now our President in this momentous issue of common humanity, and through him will speak the spirit of the western hemisphere and back of him will mass, not political parties, not merely Illinois, not states, but a united American nation."

The language is that of the statesman, the patriot who has at his tongue's command, a vocabulary that affords the finest distinctions, a diction that makes his phrases most impressive.

Cities Are Free Spenders.

F. H. Bode, a citizen who takes a deep interest in all the affairs of his home city was impressed with the figures recently printed in the Journal wherein it was shown that the amount paid out for salaries by the city government is larger than received from general taxation. He sent a clipping to his brother-in-law, Commissioner Willis J. Spaulding, of Springfield, a deep student of civic affairs.

Mr. Spaulding's acknowledgement indicates that the story of Jacksonville finances is in accord with that told in the average city. His interesting, though hardly hopeful comment is as follows:

"I have just read the newspaper clipping telling the story of the Jacksonville city finances. It is the same story we hear from nearly every city in the State. There are a few exceptions.

"It is undoubtedly true that the revenues are insufficient to properly provide the service which city life of the present day demands. Public functions have been increasing. On the other hand, there is a strong tendency to keep down the tax rate by lowering the assessment. Another factor is the higher wages and the higher cost generally due to the high cost of living. One way in which some cities conserve their revenues is in the way they apply the special assessment law. In Springfield, for instance, whenever we lay a pavement or a sewer from 20 to 30 per cent of the total cost is charged as benefits to the city and paid for out of the corporate fund. If there is much improving done this often amounts to a large sum. Last year we paid out more than $50,000.00. I think, on improvements which might have been entirely charged to the frontage. In some cities of the State entire cost is assessed against the frontage, which gives them a great advantage in the matter of finances over those who do it our way. There is no doubt but what the tax rate for city purposes will have to be increased. We must keep in mind, however, that whatever the rate is, with the present laxity in city government it would all be used whether wisely or not."

ATTEMPT TO SHOW STRIKING MINERS KILLED MACK POWELL

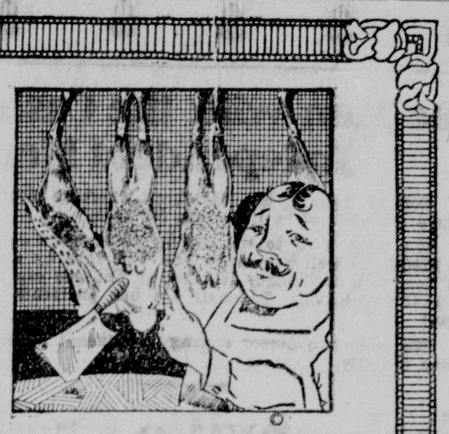

TRINIDAD, Colo., May 20.—Witnesses, testifying for the state today in the trial of Robert Uhlich, president of the Trinidad local of the United Mine Workers of America, charged with the murder of Mack Powell, a cowboy, gave evidence by which the prosecution attempted to show that Powell was killed by striking miners. Powell was killed October 9th, 1913, during a battle between strikers and mine guards. Uhlich is alleged to have supplied the strikers with arms and to have directed their operations. Frank McDermott, superintendent of the Ramyville mine, George McDermott, his brother, and A. A. Wiley, who said he was in charge of the guards on the day of the battle, each swore that Powell was killed by shots fired from Water Tank Hill, where the state alleges the strikers had taken up a position to await the arrival of the mine guards on their way to Ludlow to get a searchlight.

The First Butcher

In days of old, when Knight's were bold;
And eggs were high—so we've been told:
A Butcher Man of fearless mein,
Besought the King, in hope to gain
Favor expressed in Royal decree,
That would permit him to start a meat-eree.
The King, impressed by his appeal,
Said yes—and ordered a roast of veal.
And this you see—so the story ran,
Was the beginning of Your Butcher Man.

OLD POSTER RECALLS POLITICS OF MANY YEARS AGO

Bell and Everett Club Meeting Announced for July, 1860—Some Familiar Names.

In looking through a package of relics of by-gone days recently, J. L. Simms of the Capt. Lamb pension office among other interesting reminders, came upon a poster which had been used to advertise a political meeting in 1860. The bill reads as follows:

"Bell and Everett Club. A meeting of the friends of Bell and Everett will be held in the hall over Coffman & Bruce's store this, Friday, evening, July 27th at 8 o'clock. Elliott, J. T. Sigler, J. Corrington, L. Clark, G. M. Chambers, John Lightfoot, E. Kirkman, Robert James. July 27th, 1860."

Those whose names appear in the call have pased from earth, but descendants of several are citizens of Jacksonville at this time.

Chambers was a merchant, John Lightfoot was a butcher and had a meat market, Elisha Kirkman was a farmer as was Robert James . Of the thirteen signers, ten were from Kentucky, one from Pennsylvania, while the nationality of the other two is not now remembered.

Extacts From Essays Written In D. A. R. Prize Contest

The following are extracts from essays written in competition for the prizes given by the Rev. James Caldwell Chapter D. A. R. on Morgan county and Jacksonville topics of which mention is made elsewhere.

Ruth Fenstemaker Naming Streets.

Jacksonville, like a great many other cities, named its streets from men prominent in affairs of the state and nation. There are also several names given from well known citizens of this community and benefactors of the town. The names of trees have also been used to a good advantage. The fact that Jacksonville is noted for its wealth of beautiful trees was brought out in the essay.

Helen Smith "Educational Institutions."

The present system of public schools has been in operation about twenty years and great advancement has been made in that time. During the years 1826-27 Judge William Thomas says there was a log building in the south part of the town which was used as a schoolhouse and in it he opened a school. With the exception of a subscription school taught in the court house by a young man named Carson this was the first school taught in Jacksonville.

Gladys Howard, "The Deep Snow".

The one meterological event of the last century which was best remembered by those who were here at that time was the deep snow which fell during the winter of 1830-1. One snow fell after another till a depth of three feet on a level was reached and in places the drifts were twelve feet deep. The weather was cold and for a long time the mercury failed to rise higher than twelve degrees below zero.

Margaret Johnson, "The Deep Snow"

The deep snow began to fall in November, 1830 and continued to fall until the following January. It was a time of great suffering to man and beast throughout the country. The state was settled in 1818 and had a population of 300,000. Morgan county which was established in 1823 embraced Cass and Scott and had a population of about 15,000 and there were few people in the state north of this part which was then called the Sangamon country.

Thompson Brady, "Educational Institutions".

The first attempt at popular education in Morgan county was made in the winter of 1820-1, the school being taught in a cabin of a settler, with but few pupils. While the teacher was paid in coonskins and beeswax. Later a cabin was built for the purpose and had a large fireplace for heating purposes. Gov. Duncan secured the passage of a bill in 1833 for the benefit of public schools but it was later repealed. The foundation of the common school system was a bill secured by Judge Thomas.

Richard McCarty, "Morgan County"

Soon after the war of 1812 the population of the territory of Illinois began to increase rapidly, a great many settlers coming from Kentucky. Illinois was admitted to the union as a state Dec. 3, 1818 and the capital was located at Vandalia. In October, 1818 two brothers, Elisha and Seymour Kellogg, settled about nine miles west of the present site of Jacksonville which was the first settlement by a white man in the county.

Laura Manz—"The Early Period of Morgan County.

In early days Morgan county was a part of Madison county which comprised a large part of the southern half of the state and was created by act of the legislature January 31, 1823 and was named after Gen. Morgan of revolutionary fame. It was at first 40 miles long and 32 miles wide, comprising 1280 square miles or more than 8,000,000 acres.

Eleanor Ludwig—"Life in a Cabin."

When this county was formed the population was meager and the people thought the climate would be mild and were poorly prepared for for the deep snow of 1830-31. Timber was scarce and fuel hard to obtain except along creeks or other waterways. During the winter wild animals often perished from hunger especially during the winter of the memorable deep snow. The dwellings were mostly log cabins.

Paul Gilbert—"The Deep Snow."

No meterological event in the history of Illinois was so deeply fixed on the minds of its people of that time as the deep snow of 1830-31. The snow began to fall in November and continued with brief intermissions till January, covering the earth to a depth of three feet on a level and the storm ended in a rain which froze on the surface.

James Ledferd—"The Winnebago War."

The first Indian uprising after the war of 1812 was in 1827 when the Winnebagos made war because they claimed they had not been treated right by the white men in certain treaties. Around Galena where they lived were rich mines and these attracted many seekers for wealth and the Winnebagos formed an alliance with the Sioux for offensive purposes.

Edward Timberlick—"Early Missionaries."

Rev. Peter Cartwright was born Sept 1, 1785 in Amherst county, Virginia. He was early thrown upon his own resources. He borrowed what books he could of the neighbors and learned what he could and succeeded well. At the close of the revolutionary war the family moved to Kentucky where he grew to manhood. In 1801 he was converted and joined the Methodist church and was soon licensed as an exhorter.

Byron Shibe—"Early Days in Jacksonville.

January 31, 1823 when the county was established no one lived where Jacksonville is now. The temporary county seat was Olmstead's Mounds and in an old log cabin the first county court was held. A year later three men were appointed a commission to locate a county seat which they did on land belonging to the government. Thomas Arnett and Isaac Dial were the only two citizens residing near the place and they bought the land and proceded to lay out the town.

INTERSCHOLASTIC MEET.

The Fourteenth Interscholastic Meet of the University of Chicago is already attracting much attention. This year's records in state and sectional meets have disclosed a larger number than usual of gool high school athletes. When these local stars come together June 12th, on Stagg Field, Chicago, to decide the western and middle western champions, some lively contests are promised.

Two fast men in the Century Dash are Castle of St. Joseph, Mo., Central High, who won in 10 flat in the Missouri Valley meet, and Collier of Marquette, Kansas, who did 10-1 in the Kansas Aggie State Interscholastic. Graham of University High, Chicago, with a vault of 11-6 in the Lake Forest meet, and Bridgford of Joy, Ill., who has also been doing close to 12 feet, should be close contenders. Bradford of Aledo, Ill. with 22-4 in the 220 yard dash in the Military Tract Meet and broad jump records of over 22 feet, looks like a sure point winner. Allen of Urbana, Ill. looks good in the discuss with his recent throw of over 123 feet in the state meet.

SENATOR SHERMAN TALKS TO EDITORS

TOUCHES PRESENT PROBLEMS FACING THE NATION.

Claims Press is Potent Agency in This Crisis for International Righteousness—New Problems are Before the American People.

Chicago, May 20.—Present problems of the nation and its people and their duties and obligations, made more acute by the European war, were touched upon by United States Senator L. Y. Sherman tonight before the Illinois Press association at its fiftieth annual session. The speaker referred to press criticism and commendation which had been his portion in his years of public life and declared that through its power of criticism the press served a valuable purpose and one particularly necessary in a republic.

"We meet with grave duties facing the American people in their foreign relations," said Senator Sherman. "Nor is that duty less momentous in our obligation to civilization and common humanity in the years to come. The Press of our country in this crisis is a potent agency for international righteousness. New problems born of war are before the American people. Our influence will be a powerful agency in making new rules and usages to govern civilized warfare waged with new instruments of destruction.

"In 1863 a great German wrote in the rules of war: 'Men who take up arms against one another in public war do not cease on this account to be moral beings responsible to one another and to God.'

"The decision of the American people will light the centuries with our righteousness or our shame. It will endure in the code of civilized man. This Republic by its peaceful moral power may be the lawgiver of nations, pointing the way to blood less victories won on the sublime heights where justice sits enthroned as the supreme arbiter in the human heart.

"How mean the decrees of brutal force! How paltry the judgment of the sword! Weighed in the Omnipotent's hand, how ignoble all the spurious glory of martial deeds! How transitory is it all! Pause where the doomed and pillared capitols of empire lie prostrate in effacing dust, go where the moldering trophies tell of the vanity of all human things, walk on earth's red battlefields when drum beats pulse the tide of war no more and naught survives it all but humanity and justice. The great teachers of the human race, whose lips were touched by the divine fire which in every age has moved the hearts of men, have ruled by gentleness, by justice tempered by mercy, by peace that sways mankind in the unbroken bonds of common brotherhood.

A United American Nation.

"Touched by this eternal truth today domestic faction and political difference melt in thin air. Remember, my brethren your president is now our president on this momentous issue of common humanity, and through him will speak the spirit of the western hemisphere and back of him will mass, not political parties, not merely Illinois, not states, but a united American nation."

Of the usefulness of criticism of public men and measures Senator Sherman said: "Criticism is not abuse. It is a high form of human thought. Constructive criticism is one of the greatest of intellictual achievements. It is the threshold of creative ability without which much advancement along the highway of human affairs would not be.

"Where the people govern every person in or who aspires to public office submits his beliefs and ability for performance of his duty to criticism. The press ought to examine him and them and approve, criticise or condemn. No man fit to hold public place will take such comment in anger. He invites it by his submitting himself to that course of life. Every sensible man distinguishes it from scurrility and personal attack on his private character.

"I see many here who opposed me in the last state campaign,, who criticised me unsparingly, I believe they did so in response to their sense of either party loyalty or public duty. I shall believe in the main that the latter was the motive. It is broader and better even than party loyalty. This is the first opportunity I have had of returning to the Illinois Press my thanks for the fairness with which I was treated in the last campaign.

Work of Editors.

"In the ebb and flow of the vast flood of events the editor selects and admits to his columns what he will. The general public reads what passes beneath his hand. No graver responsibility attaches to any private pursuit.

"The publication of details of deeds of crime fill more or less space in newspapers. The effect of mental suggestion on a subnormal mind is well known. Beyond a certain limit of sensational matter the borderland of safety is passed. If voluntary restraint is not imposed, the state in the exercise of its police power may some time regulate the publication of that class of matter.

"The freedom of the press is as indispensible as the freedom of speech. It is so necessary in republican form of government that it is jealously guarded by both constitutional and statutory law. Like other attributes of freedom its abuse is subject to penalties. The trial of an alleged violation is vested in the courts of the country. There it ought to remain. The freedom of the press ought never to be shifted to a department in which autocratic or bureaucratic power may destroy a regular publication without a hearing with all the publicity that attends judicial procedure. Departmental government has already reached the full limit of safely in this country. I prefer to curtail much power rather than add to it by future legislation."

REDMEN PLEDGE SUPPORT TO THE PRESIDENT

Great Council Voiced Intense Patriotism of the Order.

Joe F. Brennan and George W. Davis returned Thursday afternoon from Mattoon, where they attended the Great Council of the Improved Order of Red Men. Mr. Brennan at this session completed his first years service as Great Keeper of Wampum and received the honors of Past Great Sachem. At the afternoon session Wednesday he was presented with a Past Great Sachem's jewel. The presentation speech was made by W. B. MacFerran of Chicago, a long time friend of Mr. Brennan.

At the Tuesday session Frank C. Smith presented a resolution endorsing the course of the administration at Washington in the Lusitania matter. This resolution was adopted by a rising vote and the members of the Great Council stood in silence for one minute in memory of those who went down with the Lusitania. The resolution was as follows:

Whereas, the leading nations of Europe are now engaged in the most devastating war that history records; and, at this hour it is a question, as to whether or not the overt acts of Germany (or some other of the warring nations) may not make it obligatory upon the United States to unsheathe the sword to preserve the principle of "humanity first", and in order that our national honor may be maintained; and,

Whereas, the Improved Order of Red Men is an American fraternal organization, having its origin with the birth of this government, and whose members, known as Sons of Liberty, disguised as Indians, threw the tea overboard in Boston harbor, and whose membership is pledged to the upholding of American institutions and duty bound to protect the flag of our country. And while so pledged we are not political and no member is obligated to subscribe to any particular creed; therefore be it

Would Answer Country's Call.

Resolved by the great council of Illinois, in representing as we do 20,000 patriotic Americans in this state, that we do hereby endorse the action of President Wilson and his distinguished secretary of state, Mr. Bryan, in proclaiming the ultimatum, issued a few days ago, after the sinking of the Lusitania by a submarine and the loss of 100 Americans; and, while we favor peace, still if it becomes necessary in order to sustain the principle of "humanity first", and to maintain our honor, as a nation, to declare war, then every Red man in Illinois stands ready and willing to respond to his country's call and to go forth "to do or to die", so that this nation may live and continue to be, in the future, as it has been in the past, "the land of the free and the home of the brave". As Red Men and Americans, and appreciating the gravity of the situation, which at this moment confronts the executive head of our nation, we quote the the patriotic sentiment of Decatur, and proclaim the same as our sentiment:

"Our country! In her intercourse with foreign nations may she always be in the right; but our country, right or wrong."

SOME CROP PROSPECTS.

Allinson Thomason from the Mt. Zion neighborhood was in the city yesterday and in conversation with a Journal reporter remarked that he had recently been in Cass county and through the drainage district and had found the wheat in that region inferior in pomise to that of this vicinity. He thinks the wheat crop comparatively safe from chinch bugs which can do but little harm now and the recent rains will have a destructive and retarding tendency on the pests.

While he has had little experience with cow peas and soy beans he thinks they may profitably be sown if it should seem necessary to plow up oats fields and he thinks also that chinch bug infested fields would be safe if plowed over as that would turn the bugs under and they would hardly get out to do any serious damage. All the cornfields he has seen promise finely and meadows are generally in good condition and the most serious problem just now confronting the vicinity is the saving of the alfalfa crop. That must be cut at the right time and some even go so far as to say that if the wet weather continues it will be necessary to cut the alfalfa and throw it away.

APPRECIATION

It's good to have some fell disease, the rheumatism in your knees, or boils upon your neck; it's good to suffer now and then, from spavin, bunion, boil or wen, and be a total wreck; for when you have your health once more, you're twice as happy as before the punk diseases came; you are in shape to realize the luck you're in, when anguish dies, and you've a painless frame. The delegate who's never ill, who never needs the durggist's pill, or hears the doctor's ring, can't realize how he is blest; in perfect health he finds no zest, it's such a common thing. Then rheumatism hits his bones, and miles away you hear his groans, as he anoints his legs, and rends his garb, and tears his hair, and bites large pieces from his chair, and for the sawbones begs. Then he begins to understand that health's a blessing great and grand that every man should prize; "If I get well instead of worse, and all my agonies disperse, I will reform," he cries. "I will not howl unless I'm hurt, I will not rail and rend my shirt or of afflictions bawl; for if a man is feeling well, he has no right to raise a yell, whatever woes befall."

THE FLEMING FAMILY.

The article in the Journal yesterday regarding the Fleming family reminded Lee P. Allcott of some days long ago. He says James Fleming used to work in the drug store for his father away back in the 1880's. Mr. Shaw, the husband of the sister, worked in the Stewart's candy store on the north side where the Y. M. C. A. rally is to have its headquarters and afterward was an Illinois river captain and lived at Beardstown and Lee says he used to ride with him. John Hamilton, the confectioner, son of Emanuel Hamilton, married the oldest daughter.

Rockford, Ill., May 19.—The closing session of the Congregational conference of Illinois tonight. Dr. James Robert Smith of Quincy was chosen moderator.

GAME AND FISH LAW HAS SUPPORT OF SPORTSMEN

Proposed Measure Includes Stricter Regulations for the Protection of Birds and Fish.

A bill now before the Illinois general assembly for the conservation of game, birds and fish and for the appointment of a commission, has the support of the organized sportsmen of Illinois. The new law is really for the purpose of revising the statute already on the books and for the further purpose of making its provisions more stringent as related to protection for certain kinds of game. The proposed law provides that the governor shall appoint three persons on the state game and fish commission, and that the salary of the president of the commission shall be $5,000 and the other two members $4,000. Seven wardens are to be appointed by them at a salary of $2,000, and 115 deputy wardens at a salary of $1,200. Among other provisions are the following:

It shall be unlawful to hunt, kill or trap bob-white quail from the tenth day of December to the tenth day of November, both inclusive, of each succeeding year, and no more than 12 are to be killed by any one person in any one day.

It will be unlawful to kill any black squirrel from the first day of January to the thirty-first day of July each year, and it shall be unlawful to kill or trap any rabbit from the first day of February to the first day of August of each year. Wild geese, ducks, brant and other water fowl are protected from the first day of February to the twentieth day of March, inclusive, and from the fifteenth day of September to the fifteenth day of December inclusive, each year.

It is also provided that it shall be unlawful to kill or trap geese, ducks brant, etc. on any day between sunset and sunrise. Another provision is that it shall be unlawful to shoot birds of the class just mentioned with a swivel gun or rifle or from any sail-boat at any time in any part of the water of any lake or bay. And it is also made unlawful to kill ducks, geese, brant or other water fowl at any time for market or other commercial purposes, and not more than fifteen ducks or ten geese by one person in any one day.

Any person who shall kill or catch or have in his possession any wild bird, living or dead, other than a game bird, English sparrow, crow, blue jay, hawk, blackbird, etc, shall be subject to a fine of $5 for each bird killed, caught or had in his or her possession. It is provided that this section shall not be construed to prevent the owner or the occupants of land from destroying birds for the protection of fruits or property. It shall beu nlawful for any person who has lawfully killed game in this state to take or transport out of the state any of the birds or game protected by the law of the state unless the same shall be in his personal possession and carried open to inspection. It is also made unlawful for any transportation company or common carrier to receive game for shipment except in accordance with certain strict provisions of the law.

Any person who shall take or needlessly destroy the nests or the eggs of any wild birds or of game birds shall be subject to a fine of $5 or imprisonment for ten days.

It is provided that any accredited person of the age of eighteen or upward may secure a certificate if birds' eggs or nests are to be gathered for scientific purposes.

Fishing Regulation.

It wil beu nlawful for any person to fish with seine, basket or trap net except as provided without first obtaining a license. This does not apply to persons who fish wholly within their own premises. Licenses for fishing are fixed as follows: For 10 yards of seine or less except minnow seine, $5; for each dip net, $1; for each hook, 50c; for each basket or trap net, 50c; for each gasoline launch in operating gill or pound nets, $15. Fish may be caught or killed with hook and line and with rod and reel, running line or artificial bait or lure at any time. Frogs of more than one-fourth pound shall not be caught by any means during the months of May and June of each year.

It shall be unlawful to hunt with gun or dogs, or allow dogs to hunt upon the premises of another without first obtaining permission so to do. It shall be lawful to catch minnows for bait only by the use of minnow seines or traps, provided that any person fishing for minnows for bait shall at once return to the water uninjured all fish except those commonly known as minnows. Fines of $1,000 to $2,000 and imprisonment for one year in the penitentiary are the penalties fixed for persons who catch or kill fish by the use of lime, acid, any chemical compound or by any explosive. Strict provision is made also against the use of firearms in connection with fishing.

It shall be unlawful to catch or kill fish which are less than the length mentioned: Black bass 10 inches; pike or pickerel 18 inches; white or striped bass 8 inches; rock bass 6 inches; croppie 8 inches; yellow or ring perch 7 inches; pike perch or wall-eyed pike 13 inches; provided that if any such undersized fish is taken the person taking it shall immediately return it to the water from which taken, except those caught by hook and line.

Another section makes it unlawful to catch except with hook and line any of the following fish, less than the length or weight mentioned: lake perch 7 inches; buffalo 18 inches; German carp 15 inches; sunfish 6 inches; blue or channel catfish 13 inches; lake trout 1 1-4 pounds dressed; white fish 1 1-4 pounds dressed; white perch 10 inches; bull-head cat 7 inches; turtle or terrapin 7-inch shell. It shall be unlawful to catch or kill mussels without obtaining a license from the state. Only a portion of the many provisions of the act are mentioned here, but the whole has the good purpose of giving more ample protection to game and fish.

WORLD'S MARKET NEWS

CHANCES OF BLACK RUST TEND TO MAKE WHEAT PRICE ADVANCE

Nearness of a Declaration of War by Italy Forms Something of a Check on the Bulls—Close is Unsettled.

Chicago, May 20.—Chances of black rust tended today to make wheat advance but the nearness of a declaration of war by Italy formed something of a check on the bulls. The market closed unsettled, ⅝c to 1¼c above last night.

Corn finished with a net gain of ⅛@¼c to ½c, oats varying from a shade off to ½c up and provisions at a rise of 10c to 32½c.

Kansas reports that owing to excessive rain the development of black rust was only a step distant, received quick attention from wheat speculators and was largely instrumental in causing the bulge that started almost as soon as trading began. Around Wichita in particular, red rust was said to be common and the conditions for the black variety that has often meant widespread ruin. Worse crop damage reports from Indiana than any heretofore at hand regarding that state did much to increase bullish sentiment. Highest prices of the day, though, came after the issuance of an official bulletin announcing that the crop prospect for Missouri had been lowered 22 points since May 1st. Italian war talk had most effect on the wheat market just before the close. A good deal of selling took place owing to apparent likelihood of an outbreak of hostilities over night. Corn responded to the wheat bulge and to the fact that the weather had become a little adverse.

Besides cables were firm and cash demand somewhat enlarged from the east. In oats, the smallness of country offerings tightened the May options. On the other hand auspicious crop reports weakened the later months.

STOCKS MAKE SOME SLIGHT RECOVERY FROM LETHARGY

Trading is of the Same Narrow and Professional Character as in Recent Sessions—Covering of Short Contracts Bring Some Advances.

New York, May 20.—Except for some slight recovery from its extreme lethargy of recent sessions, today's stock market developed no features of interest. Trading was of the same narrow and professional character and such advances as occurred were mainly due to covering of short contracts. Foreign affairs were more than ever a factor of importance the news that Italy had virtually decided to align herself with the allies being accepted as a foregone conclusion. Acute weakness in the various markets for foreign exchange offered additional evidence of the uneasiness existing in London and at all continental centers.

Demand sterling on London sold within a fraction of the low quotation made some months ago and francs actually established their lowest price since the war. Rates on Rome and Petrograd stiffened a trifle but these quotations had no significance, it was declared, because of the nominal market between New York and those capitals.

German exchange was steady with some business to Berlin and Hamburg.

Domestic conditions played a part in the low priced railway shares. Chesapeake and Ohio and Missouri Pacific being unusually active because of impending events affecting those properties.

The fate of the Missouri Pacific extension plan is believed to rest largely with the Gould interests while Chesapeake and Ohio's dividend policy was still an unknown quantity at the market's close.

War shares occupied a place of relative importance in the day's slim business, Bethlehem Steel rising six points with two to four points gains in other parts of the group. Standard stocks, including high grade railways, scored one point advances but fell back later as did also United States Steel.

USING SOAP SPOILS THE HAIR

Soap should be used very sparingly, if at all, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and greaseless), is cheaper and better than soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at any pharmacy, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

Mothers Tell of Mother's Friend

Experience is or should be our best teacher. Women who have obeyed the highest and noblest of all sacrifices, the struggle for the life of others, should have a better idea of helpful influence than those who theorize from observation.

At any rate when a prospective grandmother urges her daughter to do as she did—to use "Mother's Friend," there is ample reason to believe it the right kind of advice.

"Mother's Friend" is an external application for expectant mothers. Its purpose is to furnish pliancy to the muscles, to take away the strain on the cords and ligaments, to relieve the tension of nerves and tendons so apt to provoke or aggravate nausea, morning sickness, twitchings of the limbs and so on.

Although, in the nature of things, a woman would use "Mother's Friend" but but rarely, yet so effective has it been found that this splendid remedy is on sale in most drug stores throughout the United States. It has been prepared by Bradfield Regulator Co., 506 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., and advertised by us for over forty years. This is a fine record for such a special remedy and the grateful letters received to-day are just as appreciative as were those of years ago notwithstanding that methods are supposed to have greatly advanced. Ask at the drug store for a bottle of "Mother's Friend." It is worth while.

What is said herein of "Mother's Friend" is but a repetition of the thoughts expressed by thousands of happy mothers who have successfully used this splendid external application.

FINAL SERVICE TO BE HELD IN CONCORD M. E. CHURCH

The last service in the old M. E. church of Concord of which Rev. W. P. Bowman is now pastor will be held next Sunday evening at 7:30. This church was erected in 1856 and but few of the older people who helped in its erection are still living. It is a very sacred place to them because of the many souls converted at its altar and the last service held in memory of their departed loved ones. Hence they will be sad to see it wrecked.

The contract for building the new church will be let next Tuesday afternoon and the work of wrecking the old church and erecting the new one will begin in a few days.

The M. E. congregation will accept the kind and generous invitation from the Masonic Order of Concord to use their hall free of charge until their new church is completed. The Sunday school and 11 a. m. service will be there. The congregation appreciates very much this kindness and have most heartily thanked the order.

The Christian church of Concord also extended a very cordial invitation to the Methodist congregation to worship with them in their church in all or any of the services until the new church would be ready for use. The invitation has been accepted in part, and the evening preaching service which are every other Sunday will be held in that church and the M. E. church hereby express their hearty appreciation for this kindness

PHILIPPINE CONDITIONS.

The Journal yesterday mentioned the presence in the city of Mrs. Martha Duer Lamb, wife of Rev. John Lamb, who went to Manila in 1904 under the auspices of the Presbyterian board of missions and has been a faithful laborer there ever since with the exception of a year on furlough at home. Like other capable men Mr. Lamb has had a multitude of duties but his principal work has been teaching in the theological seminary in Manila. He has also published and edited a paper in the language of one of the leading dialects of the place and has preached and has done a variety of things in other ways.

The seminary with which he has been connected is truly a foretaste of the glad time when all who love the Lord will be better united than at present as it is truly union. It is now principally sustained by Presbyterians, Methodists and United Brethern, each of which denomination is represented in the faculty. Indications of a union also of the Baptist and Christian denominations are in sight, friendly and co-operative expressions having been received from those bretheren but so far they have not had men available for the faculty but it is likely they will send students there.

There is also a prominent union church in Manila. It is mainly composed of Methodists and Presbyterians in previous belief but first of all they are followers of the divine Master and have sunk the unimportant division lines and united in the great common cause. Mr. Lamb formuated the plan for this notable union church of all christian denominations in Manila and the prospects for that desirable consummation are good.

A wonderful work for the uplifting of the people has been done in the islands. Schools have been established quite generally and many have been taught useful knowledge. The government hospital is a marvel and in many other ways the people have been immensely benefited.

The resources of the islands are of course great. The tobacco, cotton, lumber and fruit industries are great and increasing to some exetnt. The orange, mango, papai, chico, various kinds of bananas and other fruits flourish and corn is being introduced to some extent. Of course rice is the great staple and other crops are also cultivated to some extent.

Mr. and Mrs. Lamb will not go back to Manila but will probably settle somewhere in Kansas, as curtailment of the force has been made necessary by the stringency of the times and they desire to have their boys where educational advantages will be superior to those of the islands. Mr. Lamb has done a great work during his stay in the islands as the writer can testify from personal observataion during his visit there two years ago.

A great work yet remains to be done with the people of the far away land and a grand beginning has been made. Of course the entire archipelago has not been civilized, the Moros yet being more or less intractable but they will eventually come under the rule of good if all goes as it should.

The multiplicity of dialects is a great hindrance to progress. Spanish is yet the court language but will probably give way eventually to English as it should.

If You Suffer with Chronic Disease Let Me Cure You

COME AND CONSULT ME FREE AT THE DUNLAP HOTEL FROM 9 A. M. WEDNESDAY, MAY 26, UNTIL 3 P. M. THURSDAY, MAY 27.

DR. EDWIN O. GABLE,
Neuropathic Specialist.

My new Neuropathic system of treatment cures chronic diseases by removing the impurities from the blood, by restoring normal circulation and secretions, and by relieving the pressure on and irritation of the nerves. When this is done almost every chronic case is bound to get well, no matter what organ of the body is affected. I have had the most remarkable success in giving relief to many chronic cases where other treatments had failed. No matter how long you have suffered or what your disease is or who has pronounced you incurable, I ask you to come to me. Let me examine you and see if you can be cured by this new system of treatment. I will give you an examination and my professional opinion free of charge.

This new system is very successful in all forms of chronic diseases. It gives immediate relief to irritation and weakness of the muscles and nerves of the heart. I absolutely believe that I can cure almost every case of acute and chronic Rheumatism, no matter in what form or how much you have suffered. It removes the rheumatic poison from the blood. This treatment gives speedy relief to kidney diseases, irritation and diseases of the bladder, and all forms of weakness of these organs. It cures blood diseases, skin troubles such as eczema, pimples, etc. It gives immediate relief to stomach troubles, dyspepsia, fermentation, cures constipation and liver troubles and nervous diseases.

Read what Mr. Watkins has to say:

April 21, 1915.

To Whom It May Concern:

I had been a sufferer with asthma and heart trouble since childhood and for the last four years had suffered agonies with it almost continuously. I could not sleep nor work and on the slightest exertion would have to gasp for breath, had smothering spells and dizzy spells and at times felt that the end had come. I had tried many doctors, and treatments without any benefit, but three months ago I decided to consult Dr. E. O. Gable and started treatment with him, and since then have improved steadily and am now feeling fine, have no more of the old awful symptoms and know that I am cured. I can honestly and cheerfully recommend any one suffering as I did to him for honest treatment, for he has done wonders for me.

J. H. WATKINS, Route 6, Mattoon, Illinois.

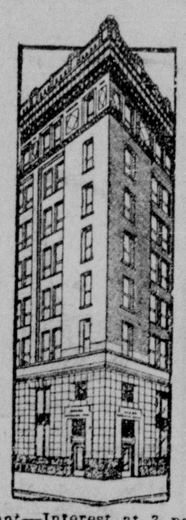

This is but one of the many cases that show the great results I am getting with this new system of treatment.

I want you to understand that I do not pretend to cure every case of these troubles. If the disease has too badly destroyed the structures I see the case is incurable. This is why it is necessary for me to make a personal examination of each case. I must see exactly what the trouble is, then I can tell you positively what I can do for you. I treat all curable forms of chronic diseases and weaknesses of the eyes, failing sight, catarrh and deafness, head noises and sick headache. If you suffer, come and see me. There will be no charge for consultation and examination to all who call this trip. I am making regular visits to Jacksonville each month and I want to examine and treat as many people as possible to show them that my new remarkable system of treating diseases is the most scientific treatment. Remember, I invite every sufferer, rich or poor, to call on me this trip. It may mean everything to you. Let me demonstrate my new system of treatment. Office hours: 9 to 12 and 1 to 5 and 7 to 8.

WILLIAM H. JORDAN IS SPRUNG FROM STURDY WARRIOR STOCK

Worthy Grandson of Revolutionary Soldier was Seventy-Five Years Old Thursday—Children Execute Pleasant Surprise.

When William H. Jordan observed Thursday the seventy-fifth anniversary of his birth, not only were the events of his own life remembered, but deeds of valor and patriotism on the part of many other bearers of the family name were brought to mind by the children and grandchildren who met for a birthday dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jordan on Webster avenue. Mr. Jordan had two uncles who fought in the war of 1812. Both were brave men and one met death by a redskin's bullet. His grandfather, James Jordan, fought for home and country in the War of the Revolution, setting up a worthy precedent for the generations to follow.

William H. Jordan was born May 20, 1840, the son of William Scott and Eliza Hill Jordan. He was the first child born on the family homestead, seven miles northwest of Jacksonville, now the home of his brother, J. F. Jordan. Mrs. Edmund Blackburn is Mr. Jordan's only surviving sister.

William Scott Jordan fought in the Black Hawk war. His three sons, William H., Henry and Hardin Jordan, enlisted in the Union cause. Henry Jordan met death in a hospital at Nashville, Tenn., while Hardin survived war and is now living in Moweaqua, Ill. W. H. Jordan is a member of the G. A. R. He is numbered among the most active members of Matt Starr post, has been commander and has filled other positions of trust. Mr. Jordan has always been a Republican. He is a man of sincere conviction and he has always stood for what is right and true.

Mr. Jordan was married at Beardstown, Oct. 8, 1867, to Miss Mary Grund and she has ever stood by his side, a faithful wife and mother. The couple for their wedding trip went to Omaha, Neb. They went by stage coach and three weeks were consumed in the journey.

Mr. and Mrs. Jordan have always made their home in Morgan county, with the exception of three years when they resided in Fort Scott, Kan. They have three children: Horace Jordan, employed as a fireman at the school for the blind; Ernest Jordan, north of the city, and Mrs. J. A. Paschall of West North street. The three grandchildren are Homer and Helen Paschall and Dawson Jordan.

The gathering Thursday was planned by the children as a surprise for their father and was greatly enjoyed by all. Well-filled baskets were brought and the resulting spread was good to look upon. In the center of the table stod a large birthday cake. Seventy five candles stood thereon and the guests indulged in much merriment when "Grandpa cut the cake" as the meal was near its close.

IMPRESSIVE FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR MISS ESTHER JOHNSON

Many Gather at Family Home to Pay Last Tribute of Respect—Rev. F. A. McCarty and Rev. G. W. Flagge in Charge.

Impressive funeral services were held for the late Miss Esther Adelia Johnson at the family residence, 658 South West street at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends. The services were in charge of Rev. F. A. McCarty, district superintendent of the M. E. church, assisted by Rev. G. W. Flagge, pastor of Centenary M. E. church.

Rev. Mr. McCarty took for his text John 16-23, "And in that day ye shall ask me nothing. Verily, verily, I say unto you, whatsoever ye shall ask the Father in my name, he will give it you." From these words the minister found a message of especial fitness for the deceased, whose life had been one of strong faith, courage and those qualities, which go to make up the true christian.

Music was given by a quartet composed of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Rapp, Miss Cora Ranson and W. W. Gillham. They sang "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," "Rock of Ages" and "Jesus Savior Pilot Me."

There were many beautiful flowers and these were kindly cared for by Misses Esther Carlson, Hilda Hagerstrom and Esther Hagerstrom. Burial was made in Diamond Grove cemetery and the bearers were Fred E. Darr, Ordrain Fox, Elmer Gary, A. C. Metcalf, James Powers and Alfred Peterson.

While the weather the last few days has not been pleasant, farmers are agreed that the conditions have been the best possible for nearly all the crops. The rain which will no doubt be soon followed by warm weather, has been of great benefit to the corn, practically the entire acreage of the county being planted. Oats have not looked so well for a number of years, and it is believed that the continued rain has helped very materially in lessening the danger from chinch bugs and the Hessian fly in the wheat fields all over the county.

William M. King of New York city is in Jacksonville for a short time on business matters. The gentleman is a son of the late Joseph O. King, who did so much for the welfare of Jacksonville during his lifetime. He is now a prominent business man in the great metropolis of the nation.

Pretty Dance at Farrell Home.

ADDITIONAL CIRCUIT COURT TERM PROPOSED

New Law May Provide for Term in February.

One of the important bills which will come before the general assembly before adjournment provides for an additional term of the circuit court in Morgan county. The bill, which will in all likelihood be enacted into a law, was prepared by Judge F. W. Burton, who is now holding court in Jacksonville.

The purpose of the law is to provide additional convenience for the residents of the county and also to lighten the dockets of the May and November terms of court. Without a resident judge action on various matters is delayed with the result of carrying over more business for the two terms now provided than is desirable either from the standpoint of hte people or the court. The proposed law provides for an additional term to be held in the month of February.

PIANO SALE ON SQUARE SYSTEM

THE $2,000,000 REASON

Much comment has been aroused in Jacksonville, concerning, "The $2,000,000 Reason Piano Sale," advertised so extensively by J. Bart Johnson.

Mr. Johnson does not believe in thin as air schemes. His plan impresses one at a glance as a straight forward business proposition, as he expressed straight to the point. Pianos are not cash, to sell them, to sell them quick you've got to sacrifice a price and that's what we are doing in conjunction with Factory representatives of the Kimball Factory.

Besides, as he explained, these are not pianos made for special sales, but regular stock from the largest and best factories in the world.

Pianos whose names are synonomous, with artistic merit and sterling durability; pianos, which the world's famous artists and greatest musical authorities of all time delight to endorse.

One hundred pianos have been alloted to Jacksonville. These pianos must be disposed of. They are going fast—therefore it behooves those who anticipate attending this great manufacturers sale to come early and assure themselves of a good selection.

SUCCESSFUL ALFALFA GROWERS

Among the successful alfalfa growers of the county are John Onken with twenty acres and a flourishing crop, and Charles Drake with a fine field of that useful article. These gentlemen both live in Chapin and have been successful with alfalfa. Mr. Drake is a believer in the use of crushed lime as he used it on a part of his crop and the result is plainly evident.

Mrs. Alice Taylor is very ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. D. L. McCarty on North Main street.
